

Recent Trophy Award

The RAF connection is relatively recent and since 2009 liverymen attending banquets have been greeted by smartly turned out Air Cadets. They come from the Middlesex Wing of the Air Training Corps with which the Company has an affiliation. Thanks to a generous gift by Past Master John Thorpe the Squadrons compete for the Worshipful Company of Farmers trophy awarded to the Squadron which, in the opinion of the CO, has done the most for community relations.

On September 11th the then Master, Follett Balch, attended the Wing Review at RAF Northolt, the oldest continuously operating airfield in the RAF, and presented the trophy to a representative of 862, Sunbury on Thames, Squadron.
